
Preserving Housing: A Best Practices Review

This document contains three tables listing the agencies that received questionnaires as part of three surveys conducted for the study on preserving housing. Although some questions on the three questionnaires were similar, the questionnaires differed for each of the three groups. Each table that follows lists the organizations that received a questionnaire and indicates which of them responded.

Table 1 is a list of the local housing organizations that received questionnaires. Table 2 lists cities that had adopted the State Building Code and received questionnaires. Table 3 lists cities that received questionnaires but had not adopted the State Building Code.
